

CATHOLIC

DIOCESE OF COLUMBUS A journal of Catholic life in Ohio

MARCH 11, 2012
THE THIRD WEEK OF LENT
VOLUME 61:23
WWW.CTONLINE.ORG

SUNBURY ST. JOHN NEUMANN: A THRIVING PARISH IN A GROWING AREA 2 Catholic Times March 11, 2012

The Editor's Notebook

The Promise of Spring

By David Garick, Editor

For lo, the winter is past, the rain is our proper role over and gone. The flowers appear in creation and on the earth, the time of singing has our destiny as come, and the voice of the turtledove children of God. is heard in our land. (Song of Solomon The word "Lent"

Spring is upon us. Well, it won't be official for another fortnight, but let's not quibble. The days are warming up, buds are showing up on some trees and bushes, daylight saving time returns this Sunday. (Don't forget to set manner of life ... and be renewed in your clock forward one hour Saturday the spirit of your minds." This is the night or you'll be late for Mass!)

Down at Garick Acres, the turkey vultures have returned to their roost at Harrisburg. My wife and I always look forward to that. The vultures may not have the good public relations of the swallows returning to Capistrano, but we always welcome them back from wherever they winter down south. The sight of them soaring in lazy circles in a clear blue sky is a great sign that summer is not so far awav.

Actually, winter has not been so bad this year. My snow shovel never left the garage this winter. I'll take that any time. But while this winter was relatively mild and snowless, it still was long and gray. What a relief it is to see the earth springing back to life after its time of slumber.

This annual renewal is part of God's great design. Just as it applies to the created order around us, the renewal is also essential to our spiritual life. We should all be feeling some of the energizing effects of a spiritual reawakening right now. The season of Lent in Sunbury, a church where energetic uses prayer, penitence, and almsgiving renewal and growth of the people of not as some kind of punishment, but Christ goes on, not just in Lent, but all rather as tools to awaken our spirits to year long.

actually comes from the German word for spring. It points us toward the Resurrection and the ultimate renewal that awaits us in everlasting life.

St. Paul calls us to "Put off your old nature which belongs to your former task that lies before us. Just as the warm winds and longer days encourage us to do that spring cleaning and prepare the land for the summer to come, our hearts must turn to the exciting task that lies ahead of us in living out Christ's mission to our world. Each of us has a part to play in overcoming the darkness of the world that creeps over us, letting forth the glorious light of Christ to shine upon those around us and leading the world into the perfect Eden that God intended for all of us at the Creation and that he promises us in the end. Again, St. Paul tells us, "Whoever is in Christ is a new creation: the old things have passed away; behold, new things have come. And all this is from God, who has reconciled us to himself through Christ and given us the ministry of reconciliation; namely, God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, not counting their trespasses against them and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation."

This week's Catholic Times takes a close look at St. John Neumann Parish

CHURCH PLANS TO REDOUBLE EFFORT FOR LAW TO PROTECT RELIGIOUS CONSCIENCE

By Catholic News Service

U.S. church leaders pledged to redouble efforts to support religious freedom after the Senate voted to table the Respect for Rights of Conscience Act on March 1.

Introduced as an amendment to a highway funding bill, the bill was tabled by a 51-48 vote, effectively killing it.

Known as the Blunt amendment because its chief sponsor was Sen. Roy Blunt, R-Mo., the bill was defeated largely along party lines. It drew the support of three Democratic senaand Ben Nelson of Nebraska. Sen. Olympia Snowe of Maine was the lone Republican to vote against the measure. Ohio senators were split on the amendment. Sen. Rob Portman supported the amendment, while Sen. Sherrod Brown opposed it.

port, Conn., chairman of the U.S. bishops' Ad Hoc Committee on Relirights for all people.

"The need to defend citizens' rights of conscience is the most critical issue before our country right now," Bishop Lori said. "We will continue our ers opposed the change as well, saydefense of conscience rights through all available legal means. Religious freedom is at the heart of democracy and rooted in the dignity of every hu-

"We will not rest until the protection of conscience rights is restored and the First Amendment is returned to its place of respect in the Bill of Rights," the statement continued

Bishop Lori also expressed his gratitude to Blunt and the other senators for their vote in favor of the amendment.

"We will build on this base of support as we pursue legislation in the House of Representatives, urge the administration to change its course on tors – Robert Casey of Pennsylva- this issue, and explore our legal rights nia, Joe Manchin of West Virginia, under the Constitution and the Religious Freedom Restoration Act."

Blunt proposed the bill on Feb. 9 amid controversy surrounding rules from the Department of Health and Human Services under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act that required all employers to provide Bishop William E. Lori of Bridge- coverage for contraception and sterilization services in any health insurance plan. After a three-week national gious Liberty, said in a statement after debate, the White House on Feb. 10 the vote that the bishops will continue revised the rules to shift the payment their strong defense of conscience of contraception and sterilization coverage from religious employers to health insurance companies for any women who sought such services.

The bishops and other religious lead-

See PROTECT, Page 15

Care Enough to Act Support Catholic Charities www.charities.colsdioc.org

Front Page photo:

The sanctuary of Sunbury Church, which was dedicated in 2004. The original church building, dedicated in 1983, serves as a social hall. A new parish center now under dedicated later this year

CATHOLIC TIMES

Copyright © 2012. All rights reserved. Catholic Times is the official newspaper of the Catholic Diocese of Columbus, Ohio. It is published weekly 45 times per year with exception of every other week in June, July and August and the week following Christmas. Subscription rate: $25 per year, or call and make arrangements with your parish. Bishop Frederick F. Campbell, D.D., PhD. ~ President & Publisher David Garick ~ Editor (dgarick@colsdioc.org)

Tim Puet ~ Reporter (tpuet@colsdioc.org) Alexandra Keves ~ Graphic Design Manager (akeves@colsdioc.org) Deacon Steve DeMers  $\sim$  Business Manager (sdemers  $\bigcirc$  colsdioc.org) Jodie Sfreddo ~ Bookkeeper/Circulation Coordinator

(jsfreddo@colsdioc.org) Mailing Address: 197 E. Gay St., Columbus OH 43215 Editorial Staff Telephone (614) 224-5195 FAX (614) 241-2518 Business Staff Telephone (614) 224-6530 FAX (614) 241-2518

Postmaster: Send address changes to Catholic Times, 197 E. Gay St., Columbus, Ohio 43215. Please allow two to four weeks for change of address.

March 11, 2012

Story by TIM PUET, Photos by KEN SNOW

Father David Schalk

Catholic Times 3

ANNUAL DIOCESAN CATHOLIC MEN'S CONFERENCE

Richard Lane

Msgr. Eugene Morris

gave more than 2.000 men a challenge to be people of grace in his keynote speech at the 15th annual diocesan Catholic Men's Conference.

Using the five letters in the word "grace" as his theme, Lane told those in attendance that they need to practice the qualities of Greatness, Righteousness, Availability, and Commitment, and remember that God gives us Everything.

Lane's talk was given in a call-andresponse style which brought occasional shouts of "Amen" from the crowd, the largest ever for the event. The Detroit native, who now lives in St. Louis, quickly engaged the audience at the Lausche Building of the State Fairgrounds by noting his Michigan roots, bringing an "OH-IO" cheer in response. He followed that with a list of the 25 greatest Ohio State football players and quoted the Woody Hayes maxim that "proper preparation prevents poor performance."

Lane is the son of NFL Hall of Fame cornerback Dick "Night Train" Lane and used football analogies throughout the rest of his talk, which contained several quotes from Hayes and Vince Lombardi and included a brief litany invoking "saints" Hayes and Bo Schembechler to "pray for us."

"Many of us are content to be defenders of the faith, and we have to go on offense," Lane said. "We have to smack the devil and smash him in his mouth.'

Most of his talk was based on Mat-

Catholic evangelist Richard Lane thew 7:13, which says "Enter through the narrow gate; for the gate is wide and the road broad that leads to destruction, and those who enter through it are many." Lane compared that "narrow gate" to the six inches of daylight a running back usually has as he attempts to break free for a long gain.

> He also spoke of his father, who was born in Austin, Texas, to a prostitute and was left for dead at the age of six months in a garbage can, where he was found by a woman named Ella Lane, who raised him. Lane said his father. though he gained athletic fame and set an NFL seasonal record of 14 interceptions which still stands after 60 years, died broke financially and bodiy, but not spiritually. "He had nothing left but one person, Jesus Christ. Like Jesus, my father gave his body so he could leave a legacy for someone else" he said

"Get in the game!" he exhorted. "We are all big-time players. We are at war with this world. God is calling his Catholic men to rise up and get in the game" through Mass, confession, adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, and touch his nail marks and believe. Bible study. "Every day is game day and your life is on the line."

The day's other speakers included Scott Hahn, professor of Scripture and theology at Franciscan University of Steubenville; Msgr. Eugene Morris of the Pontifical College Josephinum; and Father David Schalk, pastor of Columbus Christ the King Church. A Mass celebrated by Bishop Frederick Campbell, with several diocesan priests as concelebrants, concluded the program. Hundreds of those in attendance stood in line during the lunch break to have their confessions heard by more than 50 priests administering the Sacrament of Reconciliation.

Hahn described the Eucharist as "not a reward for righteousness, but a remedy for sin," and said the Eucharist is "the original New Testament" – one which existed long before the books of the Bible which came to bear the New Testament name.

Hahn was a Protestant minister who came to the Catholic Church after studying the Bible and the works of the early Church fathers in an attempt to show people the "errors" of Catholicism, and instead convincing himself of the truth of Catholic teachings.

His curiosity about the Church led him to attend his first Mass in a basement chapel at Marquette University in Milwaukee. There, in the words of consecration, he had an experience he described as being like that of Thomas the apostle following the Resurrection, when Thomas was told by Jesus to Hahn said his response to the consecration echoed Thomas' words. "My Lord and my God! That's you! That's not bread any more!" were Hahn's thoughts at that moment, he said. From there, he has gone on to a career as a nationally known Catholic teacher, speaker, and author, and frequent guest on radio and television.

See CONFERENCE, Page 20

4 Catholic Times March 11, 2012 March 11, 2012 Catholic Times 5

Enough

Did you establish or re-establish your potential to repent and to live the Gospel of Jesus Christ last week? We know that if we truly live the love of Jesus Christ by our words and actions, we can positively impact the hearts and minds of many people. What a wonderful thing. Love spoken, love demonstrated, love shared, and love lived is

Our shepherd and leader, Bishop Frederick Campbell, asked us to fast and to pray for a change of heart in the politicians and leaders of our government, especially regarding the mandate from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Some of us see the challenge very clearly, and some of us cannot see beyond a contrived and fuzzy blend of law, rights, choice, church, and state. Remember, and do not ever forget, that natural law and God's love supersedes all. Period. I am asking and our God is demanding that we stand fast and firm in solidarity with those who cannot stand on their own. Debate, discuss, and say what you will about the separation of church and state. Let your opinions be known regarding the rights and responsibilities of Faith and government. Be as vocal as you wish about where the rights of religions begin and end. But do not ever, ever back down in the least when it comes to the defense of human life. This is an ongoing situation where the weakest among us are completely helpless unless you and I stand up for them. The rationalization and promotion of death that is rapidly moving forward in our society must be challenged and changed. Enough, already! Under the guise of health care and respect for women, our morals and religious values are being stripped from us, right before our eyes, and we seem powerless to stop the impact on those around us who accept it. Nonsense! Enough! We can no longer stand by and go about our business while our moral fabric is torn apart, our religious freedom is taken away, and our Catholic Faith is publicly dragged through the mud. Do not rely upon our politicians. They are as gutless and spineless as the Komen Foundation. Without money and votes, they are nothing, and care about only power and control. I am tired of the onslaught by those who are motivated and influenced by evil. I am out of patience with those who use their public and media platforms to attack and demonize our Catholic Faith and our bishops, simply because we are easy targets. We acknowledge our past failures, we challenge our priests and bishops to do better, and, oh, yes, there is this thing called forgiveness, and we move forward. We are not stupid lemmings following our peers off a cliff. We are not barbaric cannibals. We are mission-driven witnesses of the love and salvation of Jesus Christ, true God and true man. We proudly receive His living Body and Blood because we must, and we need that spiritual nourishment. We must stand firm and fight this scourge of evil! Do not be timid. It is time to reaffirm our Catholic Christian love for the world to see, but it is also time to pick up the whip, just as Jesus did in the temple.

Our practical challenge this week is to show the world that you have had enough. Be vocal and fight. Let our gutless politicians know. Preach the Gospel, and reject evil in all its forms. Continue to pray and fast. Challenge yourselves, your family, your friends, and your fellow parishioners to attend Mass. We need a show of sincere solidarity as Catholics. We have had enough, and we must drastically increase Mass attendance and reception of the Eucharist. Repent, fight, and let us

Jeric is director of development and planning for the Columbus Diocese.

ST. PETER UNITY SERVICE

Rev. Jeff Van Orden of the Church of gifts to support the project. the Redeemer in Columbus said John's we are all fruit."

"How easy it is to transfer the imagery of his words to 'You are Catholic, he is minister. Brethren, she is Presbyterian, they are world," Van Orden said.

distributed on Saturday mornings to Church, the body of Christ.

A Moravian pastor used the Gospel anyone in need. He praised St. Peter of John to remind about 65 Christians Church, which is across the street from of many faiths of the common ground his church, for its volunteer support they all share during a prayer service and financial contributions to the panfor Christian unity at Columbus St. Pe- try. Those in attendance at the prayer service approached the altar with cash

The service was organized by parish Gospel affirms that God honors all organizations at St. Peter's and started people who serve him. He referred to a with a potluck, with Father Justin Reis, scene in the movie "My Big Fat Greek the church's pastor, welcoming every-Wedding" in which the father said "his one. Other clergy members present name in Greek meant 'apple' and the included Father William Ferguson of groom's name meant 'orange,' but not Buckeye Lake Our Lady of Mount Carto worry. We are all one family because mel Church, Father Tim Hayes of Columbus St. Timothy Church, and Rev. Les Stansbery, a retired Presbyterian

The theme for this year's celebration Orthodox, and I am Moravian,' but we of the Week of Prayer for Christian are all one body in Christ, and we share Unity was "We Will All Be Changed the same baptismal mission to make by the Victory of Our Lord" (1 Corin-Christ known through our work in the thians 15: 51-58). Representatives of the Roman Catholic Church, the Ortho-Rev. Rich Hagopian, pastor of Smoky dox Church, and the Old Catholic and Row Brethren Church in Columbus, Protestant churches in Poland decided described the outreach his church of- to focus on a theme that is concerned fers. Food is donated to the church with the transformative power of faith by local establishments throughout in Christ, particularly in relation to the week, and is sorted, packaged, and our praying for the visible unity of the > Trips to Scotland, France, Ireland, Shrines of Europe and much more.. ranging from $3,599—$4,699 for 2012.

Prices are ALL-INCLUSIVE W/ Airfare from anywhere in the continental USA

ProximoTrave

Italy Regular: April 14-22, April 28-May 6, May 5-13, May 12-20, May 19-27, June 2-10 ... Holy Land: April 14-25. April 30-May 10. May 7-17. May 14-24. May 21-31. June 18-28 ... Holy Land/Italy: March 20-April 2, April 9-22, April 23-May 6, April 30-May 13, May 7-20.

www.proximotravel.com email: anthony@proximotravel.com

855-842-8001 / 440-457-7033 Carmela A. Dupuis-Executive Directo

St. Charles Alumni Breakfast

School's annual father-son Mass and St. Charles experience and introduce breakfast will take place Saturday, young sons, nephews, and grandsons March 24, at the school, 2010 E. to the school. Incoming eighth-graders, Broad St.

This annual fraternal gathering, sponsored by the school's alumni associa- welcome. tion, will begin at 9:30 a.m. with Mass celebrated in the Mother of Mercy peal Dining Services, in the Robert C. Walter Student Commons.

Columbus St. Charles Preparatory fathers are invited to celebrate their prospective students, and current students, along with their fathers, also are

Although the breakfast is free, those wishing to attend are asked to call St. Chapel, followed by a complimentary Charles alumni director Louis J. Fabbuffet breakfast, prepared by Mass Ap-ro to ensure there is plenty of food on hand. He may be reached by email at lfabro@stcharlesprep.org or by phone Alumni fathers, uncles, and grand- at (614) 252-9288, extension 21.

Watterson Baseball Clinic

School will conduct a baseball hit- feeder schools and at www.bishopwatting clinic for fourth- to eighth-grade terson.com/athletics/springbaseballstudents on Sunday, March 11, in the clinic. school gymnasium, 99 E. Cooke Road. Pre-registration is suggested, but Clinic times will be 1 to 2:30 p.m. for walks-up are welcome. Players should fourth- to sixth-graders and 3 to 4:30 bring a helmet and bat. p.m. for those in grades seven and eight.

The school's baseball coaches and terson baseball coach Scott Manahan at current players will provide instruction (614)268-8671, extension 239, or sma-The fee is $10 per participant. Registra-nahan@cdeducation.org.

Columbus Bishop Watterson High tion forms are available at Watterson's

For more information, contact Wat-

SOFIA DININNI, PRINCIPAL FOR A DAY

Columbus Holy Spirit School's principal for a day, first-grade student Sofia Dininni, is shown with Student Council members and Linda Saelzler, the school's regular principal. She won the honor when her family was the high bidder at the silent auction which was part of the school's festival and homecoming in August. Her duties included making morning announcements and serving as lunch monitor. She even awarded students an extra four minutes of recess that day Photo courtesy Holy Spirit School

DIRECTOR OR COORDINATOR OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION AND YOUTH MINISTRY

Saint Colman of Clovne Parish in Washington Court House, Ohio, is currently accepting applications to be a candidate for the Director of Religious Education and Youth Ministry or a Coordinator of Religious Education and Youth Ministry.

To qualify for the Director position, one must possess a master's degree in theology or religious education. To qualify for the Coordinator position, one must possess a bachelor's degree (theology or religious education preferred but not required). This is a part time position (less than 30 hours/week). Candidates may be considered for full time position (30+ hours/week with full diocesan benefits).

This position is responsible for the administration of all adult and children's faith formation including catechetical and spiritual enrichment for a dedicated volunteer staff of religious educators. The applicant must be a practicing Roman Catholic, have superior written and oral communication and excellent interpersonal skills to work with children, parents, parish staff and the parish priest.

Send resume and cover letter to:

Search Committee, c/o Reverend JCP Sullivan. Saint Colman of Cloyne, 219 South North Street, Washington Court House, Ohio, 43160.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue through March 17, 2012. Saint Colman of Cloyne is a parish of 270 families.

Fisher Catholic is ranked in the top 6% of Ohio schools

Call us today to learn more. (855)855-FCHS (3247) fishercatholic.org

Catholic Times 7 6 Catholic Times March 11, 2012 March 11, 2012

a quick note from:

THE OFFICE FOR DIVINE WORSHIP

THE SCRUTINIES

The Rite of Christian Initiation of of their catechumens. The moral Adults (RCIA) is a process that proper preparation of catechumens includvides the opportunity for someone ed prayers of exorcism to drive out who has not been baptized to learn the spirit of evil which kept them about God and the Catholic faith from embracing Christ as their light. and to grow in his or her own faith The early Church Catechumens enand knowledge about the Trinitarian tered the church, stood barefoot God (Father, Son, and Holy Spirit). on goatskin, and renounced evil in-There are also provisions for those fluences throughout the night. The who have been baptized in other church discerned if the exorcisms Christian faiths to learn and embrace had achieved their effect. Those the Catholic faith. The process has deemed worthy were baptized, and four periods, with rituals that mark those deemed unworthy had to wait the end of one period and the be- another year to be baptized. ginning of the next. We have just celebrated the Rite of Election and Call to Continuing Conversion - the cism, they seem less intense. We completion of the second period. For those who are to be baptized on the Easter Vigil, this is a period the spirit of good. The purpose of of purification. During the Third, Fourth, and Fifth Sundays of Lent, they will participate in three differ- their spiritual readiness. Scrutinies ent scrutinies.

The Scrutinies are rites of selfsearching and repentance. The unbaptized have completed their catechetical formation and are now enrolled among the "elect" (called by God to be baptized). Three our baptismal promises as we see times during Lent, the community the catechumens baptized. In the prays the scrutinies to encourage a spirit of repentance among those who seek a worthy celebration of baptism.

ebrated in the fourth and fifth cen-spire us to turn from evil and pursue tury by St. Ambrose and St. Augus- good. They enliven our recommittine to mark the spiritual progress ment to Christ at Easter.

Although the scrutinies we celebrate today still include an exorpray, along with the presider, that the spirit of evil may be replaced by the scrutinies is not to examine the candidates' mental readiness, but offer the catechumens the support they need to approach the waters of baptism worthily.

The scrutinies invite us to embrace the same spirit of self-searching and repentance. At Easter, we will renew same manner, during the season of Lent, we renew our repentance as we see the catechumens scrutinized. The scrutinies remind us of the seri-These same scrutinies were cel- ousness of our Christian life and in-

Coming back to sacraments after second divorce; intinction

QUESTION & ANSWER by: FATHER KENNETH DOYLE Catholic News Service

has decided that she is going to hell? She cided that the grass was victim.) greener elsewhere, left his woman.

My friend married again mony (with no annulment or permission from the Catholic Church). They later divorced, and that second husband has since died. My friend no longer goes to church because she is under the impression -- due to the divorce and remarriage -- that she has separated herself from going to hell.

What does she have to do charist. to come back to the sacraments? Is confession sufficient or would she have to get an annulment, even though her second husband has died? (Leominster, Mass.)

cient, since she no longer own church in northeastis living in a marriage ern Wisconsin, my mother not as clear as with drinkconsidered invalid by the received the host in her ing from the cup. (Jesus, church. The key element is not that the second hus- to the chalice and began and drink," not "take and band has died, but that her to lower the host into the dip.") relationship with him had cup. already ended.

The fact that your friend first husband did not by that was "unacceptable."

What can I tell itself affect her status within the church. (Many Catholics misunderstand that. In this case, as hapwas married in the Catho- pens often, your friend lic Church and raised two was not the cause of the children. Her husband de- divorce, but the unwilling

The problem came when wife, and married another she remarried without a church annulment. Once that second marriage endin a non-Catholic cere- ed, she was free to confess to a priest and return to the sacraments.

What she probably should do now is make an appointment with an understanding priest -- to have the chance to explain in an unhurried way her marital history, make a confession of sins, receive absolution, and be assured the Catholic Church and is that she certainly is welcome to return to the Eu-

My family went to Mass recently in Minneapolis. We noticed that, during Communion, people were dipping their host into the consecrated wine instead The sacra- of drinking from the cup. ment of penance The next weekend, when would be suffi- we returned to Mass at our gist, opposes it since the hand, then moved over they point out, said, "Take minister of the chalice at askfatherdovle@gmail. was divorced from her stopped her and told her com and 40 Hopewell St.,

Who is right, and what are the rules? (Armstrong Creek, Wis.)

right. Redemptum, the instruction issued in 2004 by the Vatican Congregation for Divine Worship and the Discipline of the Sacraments, clarifies that holy Communion by intinction is permissible only if the minister of the Eucharist dips the host into the consecrated wine and then places it on the tongue of the communicant

As the instruction notes in Section 104, "The communicant must not be permitted to intinct the host in the chalice nor to receive the intincted host in the hand."

The key value underlying the rule is reverence for Jesus present in the consecrated species. Even when it is the minister who distributes Communion in this way, there is the possibility of dripping the precious blood of Christ -- so as a precaution, a server would place a Communion paten under the chin of the recipient to guide the transfer.

Many dioceses discourage the use of intinction, and nearly every liturlink to the Last Supper is Questions may be sent The deacon who was the to Father Kenneth Doyle Albany, NY 12208.

basis of academic success, leadership future of the shrine was uncermany people think the procession should be postponed. cans were asked to come for However, Father Gloden, beoutside with tremendous fury. five years, then make a prayering a man of great faith, urged To this day, the statue has ful decision about whether to the people to begin the pro-> sion moved ahead. Though all in the procession could see the drenching rain, wind, and thunder on either side of them, not a drop of rain fell on anyone in the procescession. At once, the clouds

above the church in French-

town parted and the proces-

Throughout 2012, the Conembourg in 1875 under the ventual Franciscan Friars of direction of Father Joseph Pethe Province of the Immacu- ter Gloden. Plans were made late Conception will be mark- to carry the statue in solemn ing their 100th anniversary procession on May 24, 1875, of ministering to parishioners from St. Nicholas Church in and pilgrims at the Basilica Frenchtown Township to Carey, where it would be installed in the new church. This was a As the procession was organizing, the entire area was hit first bishop of the Diocese of by a severe thunderstorm. The Toledo, invited the friars to driving winds, lightning, and

Franciscans at Carey minister to parishioners and pilgrims for 100 years the church, the storm broke served to inspire devotion to Mary for thousands of pilgrims, especially around the Feast of the Assumption in August. When a larger church, now a basilica, was completed in the 1920s, the statue was moved there. The shrine has grown to include a 30-acre park, complete with The shrine had been in ex-sion or on the statue. As the outdoor Stations of the Cross istence since a statue of Our statue was brought into the and a large memorial altar. Lady of Consolation had been church in Carey and those in The area around the basilica brought to Carey from Lux- the procession followed into includes a cafeteria, gift shop, and retreat house.

Over the years, grateful pilgrims have left a collection of crutches, canes, braces, and other items attesting to the power of their prayers to Our Lady of Consolation. Many of these items are on display in the lower portion of the shrine, which also houses a chapel of holy relics and is an important place of prayer.

Pilgrimage devotions are diction of the Blessed Sacrament, a rosary procession carrying the statue of Our Lady of Consolation (from the first Sunday in May to the last Sunday in October), and special prayers for healing, with the friars praying individually with the pilgrims.

Some of the special events celebrated this year at the shrine will be: Friday, May 4, Mass for cancer victims and survivors; Sunday, May 20, Italian Day; Friday, May 25, Feast of Our Lady of Consolation; Sunday, June 10, Indian Heritage Day; Saturday, July 14; Filipino Heritage Day; Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 14 and 15, celebration of the Feast of the Assumption; Sunday, Sept. 16, Latino Heritage Day; Sunday, Sept. 30, Family Day; Sunday, Oct. 14, Feast of St. Gerard Majella; and Tuesday, Oct. 16, Mass for hope and healing.

The shrine is 65 miles south of Toledo and 80 miles north of Columbus, just off U.S. 23. celebrated every Sunday at For more information, call the 2:30 p.m. These include Bene-shrine at (419) 396-7107 or visit www.olcshrine.com.

Msgr. J. Colby Grimes Scholarship

seven-mile journey.

come to Carey in 1912. The huge amounts of rain made

For the tenth year, the Shamrock Club of Columbus is honored to award five other criteria. $1,000 high school scholarships for the 2012-2013 academic school year in memory of the late Msgr. J. Colby Grimes. Msgr. Grimes was the Shamrock Club's chaplain before his death, and a huge supporter of Catholic education.

and National Shrine of Our Lady of Consolation in the northwest Ohio community

Bishop Joseph Schrembs, tain at that time. The Francis-continue or look for ministry

elsewhere. Father Alovs Fish arrived in June 1912 and discovered a tremendous faith in the pilgrims who visited the shrine, along with many signs of the presence of God and the intercession of Mary, consoler of the afflicted.

of Carey.

These scholarships will be awarded to one student from each of the five Columbus Catholic high schools who is a current freshman, sophomore, or junior and who has a parent or relative belonging to the Shamrock Club or is recommended by a member of the club. If you do not belong to the Shamrock Club or don't know anyone who does, feel free to visit the club and introduce yourself and we the guidance office at each high school will see that someone signs your application. For hours of operation, go to the club's website at www.shamrockclubof-

The scholarship is awarded on the skills, and community service, among

The Shamrock Club's scholarship selection committee will interview two students from each school, as determined by the committee, on Saturday, April 21, with the top student from each school receiving a $1.000 scholarship. The other students who are interviewed will each receive a $200 scholarship from the tuition assistance fund of the diocesan Office of Catholic Schools. All scholarship money will be sent directly to the student's school, to be credited to his or her tuition account.

The deadline for application is Sunday March 25. Applications are available in or may be downloaded from the Shamrock Club's website, along with a cover letter explaining the application process. For additional information contact Francis Doyle at (614) 766-8184 or e-mail him at fdoyle@columbus.rr.com.

returned to the classroom she attended in first grade to share her 2011 summer experiences exploring Alaskan glaciers with a team from the aeology department of The College of Wooster, where she is a senior. She showed samples of 3,000-year-old trees that had been encased in glacial ice. She also showed current first- graders at Notre Dame Elementary how to count tree rings and demonstrated how to core a tree for sampling of the rings without killing the tree. Each child made a necklace using a piece of a 100-year-old Scioto County red oak tree that had fallen in the woods Photo courtesy Notre Dame Schools

www.ctonline.org

8 Catholic Times March 11, 2012

Pray, Pray, Pray

GEORGE J. IGEL & Co., INC. 2040 ALUM CREEK DRIVE . COLUMBUS, OHIO 614.445.8421 . www.igelco.com

SITE DEVELOPMENT . EARTHWORK . UTILITIES . CONCRETE STABILIZATION . EARTH RETENTION . ROLLER COMPACTED CONCRETE

For project information visit www.quikrete.com

JOHN N. SCHILLING INC.

Air Conditioning ~ Heating Roofing ~ Sheet Metal Work

Since 1894 1488 Bliss St. 614.252.4915

SHERIDAN FUNERAL HOME 740-653-4633

222 S. COLUMBUS ST., LANCASTER

St. Catharine's K of C Fish Fry 500 S Gould Rd, Columbus

Friday, March 9 & March 23, 5 - 8pm ALL YOU CAN EAT- Dine-in, Carry-out and Drive-thru Adults $9 eniors (65+) $7 & Children(under 18) $5: Family Special $25 (2 adult and all children under 18 in family) Fried Ocean Perch, Baked Cod, Fries, Macaroni, Coleslaw, Applesauce, Rolls, Dessert and Beverage

LANDSCAPING

OAKLAND NURSERY VOTED BEST IN THE U.S. Now is the best time to plan and esign your landscape. Patios, pool

268-3834

Answering God's Call

"I CAN DO ALL THINGS THROUGH CHRIST, WHO STRENGTHEN'S ME"

Sr. Christella Ritchey, OSF

In expressing her gratitude for a life of abundant blessings, Sister Christella Ritchey, OSF, said, "I've always been spoiled."

"My family always spoiled me because I'm the youngest of five children, and I continue to be spoiled by good health and a good community. I keep telling God, 'You're doing a good job," she said.

Sister Christella, a member of the Sisters of St. Francis of Penance and Christian Charity, familiarly known as the Stella Niagara Franciscans, has been best-known for the past seven years as "the voice of JOIN," the Joint Organization for Inner-City Needs.

She answers the phone at IOIN's office near downtown for two hours in the morning and two hours in the afternoon every day, then sees clients. "I let people know what we do and what they need to have" so they can use IOIN's many services, which cover every aspect from birth to death, she said.

"Working with people and knowing you're giving them the help they need is the best part of my job," she said. "The worst part is that so many people didn't have the type of love I did while growing up."

Sister Christella, 69, born Carolyn Ritchey, grew up in the former Columbus Holy Rosary Church and moved to Christ the King Church when the interstate highway system took her home. Her father, George, was a buyer for the former Robert's Cloak House at Gay and High streets. Her mother, Clara, stayed home to raise her, three sisters, and a brother.

"I never had a dramatic 'St. Paul' type of moment to make me decide to be a sister," she said. "I thought I'd be married with 10 kids, but it slowly came to me that this it wasn't God's plan and that being a sister was what God was asking

She joined the Stella Niagara Franciscans on graduating from Columbus Rosary High School in 1960, choosing that order because its sisters taught her throughout her grade school and high school years. She said two of her teachers at Rosary, Sister Marlene and Sister Evelyn, were particularly influential in her decision. "They struck me as being really down-to-earth people," she said. "They were jovial, but you knew when they said something, they meant it."

Sister Christella professed her first vows on Aug. 18, 1963. and her final vows five years to the day later. Although she has spent most of her career in her hometown, she never returned to Columbus for most of the eight years between high school graduation and her final vows, as was customary then.

Her first assignment, at St. Mary School in New Monmouth, N.J., lasted from 1965-76. She taught second grade for the first six of those years, then became a teacher of religion for grades one through eight.

"This was the period of Vatican II, when there were many changes in our order," she said. "For most people, the biggest change was in our dress, as we no longer wore the traditional habit. But for me, the biggest change was that we were allowed to enter into decisions related to our assignments. I was able to change from teaching all subjects to teaching religion, and after 11 years, I was able to ask to be reassigned

She has been in the Columbus area ever since, serving at St. Anthony School as a teacher (1976-77), at the former Teens Encounter Christ Center (1977-78), at Pickerington St. Elizabeth Seton Parish in parish ministry (1978-82), at St. Anthony Church as a parish minister and religious education director (1982-83), and at St. Catharine Church for 22 years as religious education director (1983-91) and parish associate (1991-2005).

"I was at Seton with Father (now Msgr. Edward) Fairchild when the parish started and we rented an elementary school auditorium for Mass," Sister Christella said. "It was a wonderful gift to be on the ground floor with people who were so interested in the idea of community and understood what it meant. The parish grew so quickly that the church building was already too small when it was dedicated."

"I had a wonderful 21 years at St. Catharine's and have many great memories from there," she said. "One of the great gifts that Father (now Msgr.) Dave Sorohan gave me was allowing me to start a retreat team and work with it for 13 years. We planned a retreat at St. Therese's (Retreat Center) for nine or 10 months a year. The first time was hard, but after that, people were eager to find out who was conducting the retreat. We had a different set of people form the retreat team every year. I worked with about 90 altogether – all different, each with unique gifts and talents the retreats brought out.

"Father Sorohan was someone about whom you could say you never worked for him, but with him," she said. "After 21 years, I felt it was time to leave. One day Ruth Beckman at JOIN called me, said she had a job and asked if I'd be willing to take it, so I agreed, and I've been here ever since. I'd always wanted to work with the poor, and this has been a great op-

Sister Christella said one of the highlights of her 48 years in the Stella Niagara community was her election to the Franciscan general chapter, an assembly which meets every five years, and the opportunity it gave her to go to Rome and Assisi and meet sisters from other nations. When not working at JOIN, she enjoys music, reading, visiting friends, following college football and basketball, and serving as state chaplain for the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

"People sometimes ask me what the difference is between the life of my sisters, who are laywomen, and my own life." she said. "One big difference is that I have a greater opportunity to make time for prayer. I choose to live in community, so I have to be willing to do things for other people and to be involved in a lot of giving and sharing."

Sister Christella said her favorite Scripture verse is Philippians 4:13, "I can do all things through Christ, who strengthens me."

"I grew up with my parents often repeating this verse," she said. "My dad always said 'You can do anything, but you have to do it with God's help."

Catholic Times 9 March 11, 2012

Where do we seek wisdom?

This Thursday's gospel reading about the rich man and Lazarus is familiar to most of us. Lazarus is a poor man who lies at the door of the rich man, hoping in vain for a scrap from his table. After a life of leisure and abundance, the rich man dies and finds himself tormented in the nether world. Lazarus also dies, but he is taken to heaven and cradled in the bosom of Abraham. I often think of this reading as a reminder of the importance of caring for the needy among us, not only those struggling to survive materially, but also those impoverished of spirit. Today, however, I am struck by another message.

Once resigned to his fate, the rich man asks that someone be sent to his brothers who still live, that they might be warned and change their ways. Abraham says that cannot be done. He reminds the rich man that his brothers have Moses and the prophets to warn them. The rich man persists, saying that if Lazarus could go to his brothers, they would surely listen to someone come back from the dead. Again, Abraham says "No." Even if someone were to rise from the dead, they would not listen.

I pondered this section of the gospel and thought about where the rich man's brothers looked for wisdom. Or did they? Did they assume they knew what was best? Was immediate reward what drove them? What about me? Where do I look for wisdom? Where do people in the modern word find it? We are bombarded with information, analysis, and advice from TV pundits, celebrities, the Internet, television, and other media.

GRACE IN THE MOMENT Mary van Balen

Recently, I watched motherly wisdom handed down from one generation to the next. A young woman, overwhelmed with the demands of her new child and unsure how to meet them, turned to her mother, who had done a good job with three. Sometimes, wisdom is obtained from those we trust and love.

Where we look and whom we ask depends on what kind of wisdom we are searching for. The rich man's brothers probably thought they had a good handle on how to live life. Their goals may simply have been wealth and comfort. Turns out they were as shortsighted as the brother who had died first. Where we look for wisdom depends on our goals.

Lent is a time that reminds us to consider our goal.

Whatever discipline or practices we are using to observe this season are meant to help us focus on what is most important in our lives: our relationship with the Holy One. That is not something apart from the "rest" of our lives, but rather integral to everything we do -- how we interact with people at our workplace, what we do to recreate body and spirit, how we respond to needs of others, how we live with our families and friends

The rich man and his brothers likely did not read Moses or the Prophets to find out how to pursue their goals. We have the advantage of many sources of wisdom to help us in our search for deepening our relationship with God and the change that makes in how we live our lives. We have Moses and the Prophets. We have the New Testament, and examples of holy women and men who have gone before us and who live in the world today. Most importantly, we have Jesus Christ, who did rise from the dead and who sent the Spirit to live within each of us.

The Wisdom we seek dwells within, a gift of the Incarnation. These weeks are good times to reflect on that, using Scripture and other writing that feeds our spirit. It is a time to reflect on how our relationship with God influences our interaction with the world.

Copyright 2012 by Mary van Balen. Visit van Balen's blog at http://maryvanbalen.com/blog.htm

Walking with God

By J. P. Leo Thomas

Imagine an occasion when you walked along a soft, sandy beach with your mother in hand. Do you remember how it felt? Do you remember the gentle breeze and the night sky, and how you waited in anticipation for that time to come again? This is what Christ gives to us this Lenten season. It's like taking along an old friend with you on a quiet journey through time – a journey of discovering the meaning of your life and the adventure it can surely be. We touch, we feel, we see with our minds, our hearts, and our souls the beauty of such a moment. Many of us try to capture and hold onto these memories, but. as with all things, they fade away with time. But God is constant: He lives on in us in the past, present, and future. He is the one thing that is unchanging, unalterable, and genuine.

During the coming months, we need to focus on what we can do as Chris-mind – not just attending church, but celebrating the Mass as it was intended. When we accept Him as our savior and take Him in, we are transformed into beings of light. Don't shy away from your responsibilities as His children, for He calls us each in very unique and wonderful ways. Allow Jesus to work in you and see what He can create. Do not be afraid of the unknown, because He will always follow us on our path as a true and trusted guide.

Mary was convinced and confident of her way through life, as well. Told about her conception in a dream, she was intent on following God's will. It is not for us to second-guess His nature and why He does the things He does. There is a reason for everything and a time for every tend to protect what is ours, what is crepurpose under the heavens.

Understanding this is like reaching an agreement to not understand, to take a leap of faith into the unknown. We cantians to bring others into our frame of not know what will happen today, tomorrow, or even the next moment. We live our lives in the here and now. Only Christ lives in all three, direct and simultaneously. Mary knew that when she accepted her fate. She and all of us are shaped by the events that life places before us. It is for all of us to try and find that same courage within ourselves. Stand up for what you believe and fight for the innocent. Be mindful and forgiving of others' mistakes, be thankful for what you have, and share your bounty with both God and man.

> We tend to lose sight of such things during this season, the season of the Lamb. Let us feast on His presence in the holy Eucharist and in our daily lives. Proclaim to the world yet unborn that we inated by God's own hand, and given to us in the birth of each and every child. Yes. Mary held the son of God in her womb. but all mothers carry the scent of His spirit, because of Mary's sacrifice, in everv newly conceived child. We have lost our way in this secular society, but God is patient. He awaits our return with the anticipation of a newborn infant. Resurrected from the ashes, we become as we are destined to be, children of God and life eternal. Remember, we are not from this world; we are from an age beyond age and from a time beyond time. Walk with Him along the shore, hold Him in your heart, and say to the world that the traveler has awakened. We are watchful now and will defend life, all life. Resurrection is at hand, call to the Gospel, atone for your sins, and wait in joyful hope of the coming of Jesus Christ.

May the gentle wind of the Holy Spirit be with you all, may He guide you in your decisions, and may they be the right ones. Celebrate life. May God bless you and keep you, His child, always.

J.P. Leo Thomas is a parishioner at Gahanna St. Matthew Church.

10 Catholic Times/March 11, 2012 March 11, 2012/Catholic Times 11

A GROWING PARISH OFFERS MANY OPPORTUNITIES FOR FAITH AND FRIENDSHIP

BY TIM PUET, Catholic Times Reporter

Left: Staff members and active parishioners at Sunbury St. John Neumann Church include (from left): first row, Jackie Sutton, development director; Libby Muhoberac, office manager; Tina Burtch, youth minister; and Jill Newell, adult education teacher; second row, Bob Scott, business manager; Jima Burtch, youth minister; and Jill Newell, adult education teacher; second row, Bob Scott, business manager; Jima Burtch, youth minister; and Jill Newell, adult education teacher; second row, Bob Scott, business manager; Jima Burtch, youth minister; and Jill Newell, adult education teacher; second row, Bob Scott, business manager; Jima Burtch, youth minister; and Jill Newell, adult education teacher; second row, Bob Scott, business manager; Jima Burtch, youth minister; and Jill Newell, adult education teacher; second row, Bob Scott, business manager; Jima Burtch, youth minister; and Jill Newell, adult education teacher; second row, Bob Scott, business manager; Jima Burtch, youth minister; and Jill Newell, adult education teacher; second row, Bob Scott, business manager; Jima Burtch, youth minister; and Jill Newell, adult education teacher; second row, Bob Scott, business manager; Jima Burtch, youth minister; and Jill Newell, adult education teacher; second row, Bob Scott, business manager; Jima Burtch, youth minister; and Jill Newell, adult education teacher; and Jill Newell, adult education teacher; adult e Stefaniak, men's faith sharing groups; and Father David Sizemore, pastor. Center: Participants in the annual parish youth retreat at the Heartland Center in Marengo. Right: The parish picnic takes place in a pavilion on the church grounds CT photo by Tim Puet (left); photos courtesy St. John Neumann Church bury in Delaware County the previous 100 or so years.

But Msgr. George Schlegel, the pastor of Westerville St. Paul Church, which served the Sunbury area, knew that was about to change because of the rapid were viewing that farmland as an attractive place for new housing. so he decided to form a mission church in the community.

The mission's first Mass was in an American Legion hall on Sept. 4, 1977. Within five weeks, large crowds quickly made it necessary to schedule additional Masses and move them to the Big Walnut Middle School gym. The mission, which became St. John Neumann Church, has been growing ever

The village square remains as a reminder of the community's rural roots, but Sunbury now has a population of nearly 4,500, with be completed in the summer. an additional 5,000-plus in nearby townships. St. John Neumann has become one of the largest, most active parishes in the Diocese of Columbus, with a membership of 1.100 families that has doubled within the last six years.

In 1977, the village of Sunues to add about 100 families per which has been collected. A 10vear as more new homes are built. was a quiet community of Its facilities at State Route 37 and about 2,800 people, with an attrac- Carters Corner Road have kept tive town square surrounded by pace with the growth. The origibuilding from 500 to 1,000 and farmland, much as it had been for nal church building, dedicated in connecting the three buildings complished in terms of growth 1983, now serves as a social hall. The current church building was dedicated in 2004, and a new parish center is rapidly rising next to it. The two-level, 21,000-square-foot building, which is expected to the south. He knew developers 10 religious education classrooms and a choir practice room on the lower level, with a banquet and fellowship hall seating 300 people, a nursery, and a commercialsize kitchen on the ground level.

> Once the center is completed, work will begin on renovation of the current social hall. The building will be almost completely taken apart and reconfigured to pro- ther can be actively involved with vide space for the church offices so many groups, but he provides (which temporarily are in an of- an atmosphere that encourages fourth Sundays being for smallfice building away from the parish property) a work room, a conference room, five more classrooms, kitchen. That work is expected to since 2005, said the parish contining pledged, about $3 million of be a hurry to leave."

year master plan which stretches through 2019 also calls for expanding the capacity of the church with a walkway.

The additional space is badly needed to house the more than 90 groups which meet regularly at the parish. These range from the types of organizations found in most growth of Columbus, just 20 miles to be completed in May, will have parishes to clubs for euchre players, bicyclists, and motorcyclists.

"We have a lot of activities because Father Dave is very open and supportive to all suggestions," said Jackie Sutton, parish development director. "But you'd better not suggest anything unless you plan on carrying it out," added Jill Newell of the parish adult education staff. "There's just no way Fayou to try things."

"This is a growing community, and that's why we have to have a room for counseling, and another a parish center," said parish business manager Bob Scott. "One of the best places to see that people Nearly as important as the build- here have a real sense of wanting ing expansion is the addition of to be involved in the parish is afspace for more cars, which will ter the Saturday evening Mass and increase the number of parking the two on Sunday. The gatherspots from 193 to 417. All this is ing space is full of people talking being paid for through a capital with each other about the comcampaign which was completed ing week's activities. They stay Father David Sizemore, pastor last year with $4.6 million be- around and there doesn't seem to

"There's a sense that people are being spiritually fed here, and that keeps them coming back," Father Sizemore said. "That's helped a great deal with what we've acand the new building, because if people feel their lives are being transformed, the finances will take care of themselves. The parishioners have put some great organizations in place, and it's because of them that all this has come about."

As a parish with many young families, one of St. John Neumann's strengths is its Life Teen Youth Ministry, directed by Tina Burtch, which has programs on most Sunday evenings from 6 to

The first and third Sundays of the month are Life Nights, which include activities such as skits, music, videos, "hang-out time," food and prayer, with the second and group Scripture studies or discussions of contemporary issues. This year, those studies are focusing on the Book of Acts.

On the first Sunday of each month from October to April (except February), the youth program begins with a 4 p.m. praise Mass, with young people serving as lectors, greeters, and Eucharistic ministers, and music by the Station 14 praise band. The Mass is followed by dinner, prepared by parents.

Jesus' baptism is depicted in one of the church building's two large stainedglass window groupings CT photo/Tim Puet

The youth program also includes special events during the year, including nights set aside for "dudes" and for girls, a Halloween hayride, a lock-in, a three-day retreat, and appearances by youthoriented speakers. A youth variety show is scheduled for this Friday. March 9

Burtch said a core team of 20 to 30 youths works with her to encourage their peers to come to these events. "This is the era of social media, and teens are social beings," she said. "Face-toface contact that doesn't involve it's brought more people into the a computer screen is just as im- program.' portant as ever because it shows young people how much you care same time as the Parish School of about them."

Besides Life Teen for high school students, the parish offers Life Teen's EDGE program for middleschool students, directed by Kerrie Ritchev and meeting on Wednesday evenings. "This is a three-year curriculum that scraps the old talkand-workbook model for a more fast-paced, interactive combination of large-group presentation and small-group discussion," she said. "I've heard consistently from parents and children how much they've enjoyed the change, and

The EDGE program meets at the Religion, which has about 500 students, directed by Bob Steinbauer. and is one of the largest in the diocese. Because the parish doesn't have a school, this is how most of the church's young people receive their religious education. However, PSR classes do take place in a school building – the General Rosecrans Elementary School in Sunbury, which the parish rents for the evening because the pro-

"We scrapped the old PSR model of spending the entire period in gram has grown too big for current parish facilities.

See CHURCH, Page 12

12 Catholic Times March 11, 2012 March 11, 2012

CHURCH, continued from Page 11

one classroom a couple of years ago," Father Sizemore said. "We start in a big assembly every week and sing Bible songs, do skits, or show faithbased videos, then we break off into grade levels.

"While the children are in class, their parents are meeting on their own as part of what we call our Faith and Family activity, using the Franciscans' Journey Through Scripture program. We decided a few years ago that while the children are growing and being formed in their faith, why not have the same thing for the adults?"

The parish RCIA program, directed by Rosemary Halter, has about 25 catechumens and candidates this year and, for the second straight year, is taking place two times a week. One session, geared toward families, is at 9:30 a.m. Sunday and the other is at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

"Last year, we had several whole families who were joining the Church together, or situations where one familv member was Catholic and another wanted to become Catholic, so we decided to have the family class. This year, there was more of the same thing, so we decided to do it again," Newell said.

The parish also offers several additional adult education opportunities. Five parishioners went to Franciscan University of Steubenville last summer to receiving training for the Journey through Scripture program, which is being currently used by PSR parents and will be introduced to the rest of the parish in the fall. Additional training at Steubenville for other programs will take place this summer.

Other adult education groups include weekly Bible studies for men and women, the EPIC church history series, a weekly Lenten speaker series, the Catholics Returning Home program, Dave Ramsey's Financial Peace University, marriage and marriage preparation ministries, and a Natural Family Planning ministry. Catholic writer and educator Jake Tawney, author of the Catholic Times series on the new version of the Roman Missal, recently completed a series of talks on Pope John Paul II's Theology of the Body. The series opened with an introduction by Bill Donaghy of the Theology of the Body Institute.

In addition, four times a year, Father Sizemore hosts a program titled Adults Seeking Knowledge, at which he answers questions anonymously submitted to him. "People can ask anything about the faith, and I have no idea what the questions are going to be until I hear them," he said. "It's a lot of fun and always draws a good crowd, and is a great informal way to deepen people's appreciation of church teaching."

Youth from Sunbury St. John Neumann Church gather in front of the U.S. Supreme Court buildng in Washington D.C. during the January 2012 March for Life.

The parish has two large groups for men – a men's club which was organized more than 20 years ago and Knights of Columbus Council 14457, which began in 2008.

"The two are really complementary," said parishioner Jim Stefaniak. "The Knights have become the larger organization, with about 115 members while the men's club has about 20 or 30, but it's really hard to tell where one ends and the other begins because both are involved in many of the same things."

These include weekly Lenten fish fries, spaghetti dinners, a New Year's Eve dance, pancake breakfasts, high-

See CHURCH, Page 13

Nearly 40 women of St. John Neumann Church, plus members of the Sisters of Reparation to the Most Sacred Heart, took part in the parish women's retreat Photos/St. John Neumann Church

DEE PRINTING, INC.

4999 Transamerica Drive Columbus, Ohio 43228

777-8700

the Murnane Family

Specializing in Catholic Church Sunday bulletins and Serving Columbus Diocese and others since 1974

MILAN • BERGAMO • VENICE • FLORENCE ASSISI • ROME VATICAN CITY AND PAPAL AUDIENCE

TOUR FEATURES:

Round trip airfare from Columbus First class select hotels Most meals are included Comprehensive sightseeing And much more!!!

For a brochure and Deacon Felix F. Azzola/St. Mary Church 82 East William Street, Delaware OH 43015 Phone: 740.363.4641 (Church), 740.369.2014 (Home) E-mail: deaconfelix@msn.com or fazzola@delawarestmary.org

CHURCH, continued from Page 12

way cleanup, submarine sandwich sales, two flea markets a year, a blood drive, and support for St. Gabriel Radio and the diocesan Catholic Men's Conference Coming in April will be a "boot camp" day providing a free breakfast for all military veterans, along with a speaker and assistance with obtaining benefits. Stefaniak said 20 to 30 veterans attended a similar event last year.

The parish also has a women's club which meets once a month and sponsors activities including a women's night out, a Christmas party, and preparation and serving of funeral meals and meals for new mothers and sick families. Its major fund raiser is a craft bazaar in November.

The parish has a number of faith sharing groups for men and women. Stefaniak said Father Sizemore's encouragement led him to start such a group three years ago, and it has grown to the point where there are now five such groups meeting at various times, with 30 to 50 men involved. Sutton said women's faith sharing groups began in the parish about eight years ago and there are now eight of them, meeting at the parish and locations in Lewis Center. Sunbury. and Galena

The Heartland Retreat Center in Marengo will host the parish's sixth annual retreat for women in October and a day of reflection for men in November. "We used to have weekend retreats for both men and women, but the men seem to prefer the one-day format, while the women enjoy a longer chance to get away from their families and recharge their batteries." Father Sizemore said. "Maybe it's because the male attention span is shorter."

The parish's social action programs include an active St. Vincent de Paul Society conference which helps hundreds of people in the course of the year, plus participation in the Big Walpeople within the Big Walnut School District, and the Andrew's House program, which feeds the needy in the city of Delaware. In addition, it has a health ministry team and provides space for the Spirit of Peace faith-based counseling program three days a week. More counseling space will be part of the new parish center.

The "boot camp" for military veterans at Sunbury St. John Neumann Church, sponsored by Knights of Columbus Council 14457, includes a free breakfast Photo courtesy St. John Neumann Church

The three weekend Masses each have their own choir, with the 4 p.m. Sates, and the 11 a.m. Mass similar to the and it transforms parishes."

one on Saturday, but with more instrunut Friends Who Share program, for ments. Andy Wallace is the parish music director.

Catholic Times 13

Other key staff members are Deacon Carl Calcara; Sister Julie O'Stroske, OSF, who ministers to the sick; and office manager Libby Muhoberac.

"This parish has something for everyone, and if there's something anyone doesn't see and would like, I'd be happy to help them start it," Father Sizemore said. "I think all of this is happening because the Holy Spirit is urday Mass featuring contemporary at work here, and so many people apmusic, the 9 a.m. Sunday Mass being preciate it when their spiritual needs more traditional, with piano and voic- are taken care of. It transforms lives

Help The Catholic Foundation help your parish.

to take our survev

Please take our brief. confidential survey at www.TCFsurvey.org

Surveys will also be available at Masses on March 3-4, 10-11 and 17-18.

Thank you for your participation.

Connecting Your Gift in One Faith

The Catholic Foundation serves every parish within the 23-county Diocese of Columbus.

THE BEST OF IRELAND AND NORTHERN IRELAND TOUR

Only $3179 Roundtrip from Columbus Hosted by Fr. Patrick Toner

12 DAYS: JUNE 11 - 22, 2012

TOUR INCLUDES:

Roundtrip Air from Columbus, First Class/Select Hotels, Most Meals, Professional Driver/Guide & Comprehensive Sightseeing

Trip Information Night, March 18, 6:00 PM

670 W. Main St., Plain City, Ohio 43064 For a brochure & more information contact: Fr. Patrick Toner

Tel: (614) 873-8850

Email: patoner@saintjosephplaincity.com

Catholic Times 15 14 Catholic Times March 11, 2012 March 11, 2012

Third Sunday of Lent (Cycle B)

Jesus takes on the money-changers

Father Lawrence L. Hummer

Exodus 20:1-17 1 Corinthians 1:22-25 John 2:13-25

In John's Gospel, Jesus takes on the money-changers early on in the Gospel. The Synoptic Gospels (Matthew, Mark and Luke) place the incident on Palm Sunday or Monday, just before the arrest and the crucifixion. Their arrangement makes for an orderly and somewhat chronological Holy Week.

Thus, Mark carefully arranges things so that Passover will begin on the evening when Jesus celebrates the Last Supper with his disciples. Jesus arrives in Jerusalem on what we now call Palm Sunday. On Monday, he throws out the money-changers from the Temple. On Tuesday, he encounters a number of leaders within Judaism as he teaches many things. Then Mark notes it was two days till Passover, which would take us to a Thursday evening.

Matthew is not as careful as Mark is in counting the time between Jesus' arrival in Jerusalem and the beginning of Passover. He has Jesus throw out the money-changers on the same day that he arrives in Jerusalem. Luke agrees with Matthew in locating the money-changer incident on Palm Sunday as he arrives in Jerusalem. Luke then allows any number of days to have passed after Jesus arrived in Jerusalem before the Last Supper happens.

Now returning to John, Jesus arrives in Jerusalem on this Passover without fanfare and immediately challenges the money-changers in the Temple. This will spark a continuing controversy with Jerusalem authorities throughout the rest of John's Gospel. So when He arrives in Jerusalem for a third Passover in Chapter 12, there will have been two years of constant interplay between Jesus and the Jerusalem authorities. This heightens the drama of his final arrival as the crowds hail him as king of Israel. Because Jesus had been to Jerusalem at least three previous times in John, he would not have been a complete stranger. That would have helped the crowds to recognize him.

Yet here we are in Chapter 2 at a Passover setting when the crowds would have been huge – as many as 100,000 visitors, by some counts. The Temple scene is more thoroughly described than in the Synoptic accounts. The various animals mentioned were all possible sacrifices, depending on one's ability to pay. Also, Passover drew Jews from all over the Mediterranean region, bringing with them Roman coinage that would have to be changed into acceptable Judean coins, which explains the money-changers' presence there.

For those who have ever traveled, it calls to mind the presence of the Vatican bank near St. Peter's, where they were ready, willing, and able to change pilgrims' money into Italian lire once upon a long time ago. In the time I was there (the '70s), they were located in trailers around St. Peter's Square. I'm not sure what they do these days, but I'm sure they are there to change dollars or any other currency into euros for any and all pilgrims who come there.

Unlike the other gospels, John borrows from Psalm 69:10, but changes it to a future tense: "Zeal for your house will consume me." The more familiar "You have made my house a den of thieves" comes from Jeremiah 7:11. The 46 years of construction of the Temple was actually a reconstruction undertaken by Herod the Great, beginning in about 20 or 19 BC. That would make the date of the remark in the Gospel about 27 or 28 AD, which would then make the death of Jesus about 29 or 30 AD. John's unique spin is to understand the Temple as a reference to Jesus' body.

Nonetheless, we continue to hail the destruction of his body, not as folly nor as stumbling block, but as the power and the wisdom of God.

Father Lawrence Hummer, pastor at Chillicothe St. Mary, can be reached at hummerl@stmarychillicothe.

"Carry the Cross" walk for men scheduled

Wilderness Outreach is sponsoring its annual "Carry" man will anonymously write down the sins he wants to the Cross" walk for men ages 14 and older on Holy Saturday, April 23, at Clearcreek Metro Park, off U.S. 33 just south of the border between Fairfield and Hocking counties.

Those taking part will carry a 65-pound cross of fourby-four-foot timber, approximately 10 feet long with a six-foot crossbar, on a 12- to 14-mile journey through the park. The cross will stop along the way at 14 stations. Participants can walk all or part of the way. Estimated time for the walk is about six hours.

A "sin" burlap bag will be attached to the cross. Each be healed and forgiven of and place them in the bag. The Rosary and other prayers also will be recited.

Participants are asked to arrive between 7 and 7:30 a.m. Those taking part should bring a day pack with two to three liters of water. Last year, 53 men took part in the walk. Father-son groups are particularly encour-

More details are available by calling John Bradford of Wilderness Outreach at (614) 679-6761, emailing john@wildernessoutreach.net or going to www.wildernessoutreach.net.

The Weekday Bible Readings

MONDAY 2 Kings 5:1-15b Psalms 42:2-3:43:3-4 Luke 4:24-30

TUESDAY Daniel 3:25,34-43 Psalm 25:4bc-5ab,6-7bc,8-9 Matthew 18:21-35

WEDNESDAY Deuteronomy 3:25,34-43 Psalm 147:12-13.15-16.19-20

> THURSDAY Jeremiah 7:23-28 Psalm 95:1-2.6-9 Luke 11:14-23

Matthew 5:17-19

FRIDAY Hosea 14:2-10 Psalm 81:6c-11b,14,17 Mark 12:28-34

SATURDAY Hosea 6:1-6 Psalm 51:3-4,18-21b Luke 18:9-14

DIOCESAN WEEKLY RADIO AND TELEVISION MASS SCHEDULE WEEK OF MARCH 11, 2012

SUNDAY MASS

10:30 a.m. Mass from Columbus St. Joseph Cathedral on St. Gabriel Radio (820 AM), Columbus, and at www.stgabrielradio.com. Mass with the Passionist Fathers at 7:30 a.m. on WWHO-TV (the CW), Channel 53, Columbus. Check local cable system for WWHO's cable channel listing. Mass from Our Lady of the Angels Monastery. Birmingham, Ala., at 8 a.m. on EWTN (Time Warner Channel 385, Insight Channel 382, or WOW Channel 378) (Encores at noon, 7 p.m., and midnight).

Mass from Kenton Immaculate Conception Church at 10 a.m. on Time Warner Cable Channel 6 (Hardin County).

Mass from Portsmouth St. Mary Church at noon on Time Warner Channel 24 in Scioto County.

DAILY MASS

8 a.m., Our Lady of the Angels Monastery in Birmingham, Ala. (Encores at noon, 7 p.m. and midnight) See EWTN above; and on I-Lifetv (Channel 113 in Ada, Logan, Millersburg, Murray City and Washington C.H.; Channel 125 in Marion, Newark, Newcomerstown and New Philadelphia; and Channel 207 in Zanesville); 8 p.m., St. Gabriel Radio (820 AM), Columbus. and at www.stgabrielradio.com.

> We pray Week III, Seasonal Proper of the Liturgy of the Hours people, Cardinal Francis George, OMI, the archbishop of Chicago, commented on the question of "who speaks for the Catholic Church," which had become a subject of public controversy thanks to the Obama administration's "contraceptive mandate"—which is, of course, an abortifacient and sterilization mandate as well. The cardinal noted the administration's crude attempt to play divide-and-conquer with the Catholic Church in the United States, a ploy in which some nominally Catholic groups quickly acquiesced. Yet, something important in all of this was being missed, the cardinal suggested:

"... the bishops of the Church make no attempt to speak for all Catho-

In a Feb. 14 note to his lics; they never have. The bishops speak for the Catholic and apostolic faith, and those that hold that faith gather around them. Others disperse."

The diaspora, in this case, was entirely predictable: columnists and politicians who had questioned the administration's mandate, and organizations and associations that had raised serious questions about it when it was first announced, quickly fell back into line when the administration, on Feb. 10, announced an "accommodation" that was an obvious shell game, a ruse that didn't change the moral issue involved one whit.

tinued to gather around

THE CATHOLIC DIASPORA AND THE TRAGEDY OF LIBERAL CATHOLICISM

"accommodation." And they will prevail.

The administration is on the shakiest of legal ground in attempting to impose contraception, sterilization, and abortifacients as "preventive services" that must be provided, on demand and with no co-pay, in all health insurance programs. As my friends Edward Whelan and David Rivkin pointed out in Others, however, con- The Wall Street Journal on Feb. 15, there is every the bishops, who rejected reason to think that the administration's mandate, even as tweaked by the false-flag "accommodation," will fail two legal tests: the test of the First Amendment's protection of the free exercise of religion (recently upheld in a robust way by the Supreme Court in a 9-0 decision against the Obama administration), and the test of the Religious Freedom Restoration Act. As this battle unfolds, there is every reason for the bishops and those gathered around them to be confident of success.

But what about the diaspora: those Catholic individuals and organizations that re-embraced the ad-Caesar announced his "accommodation" (or, in the case of Sister Carol Keehan and the Catholic Health Association, helped Caesar trot out his ruse)? These individuals tragedy.

versal Church of pre-conciliar liberal Catholicism in America was the development of a Catholic theory of religious freedom—which led, in due course, to Vatican II's ligious Freedom, to the post-conciliar Church's of human rights, and to the Church's crucial role in democratic transitions around the world. This achievement, in which the debates on religious close collaboration with the U.S. bishops. It was Cardinal Francis Spellman of New York, for instance, who brought ministration as soon as Father John Courtnev Murray, SJ, to the Council, where Murray became one of the intellectual architects of the Declaration on Religious Freedom. And it was Murray (now falsely enand associations typi- listed post-mortem into cally think of themselves the pro-Obama camp of Archdiocese of Denver.

self-description proudly who, with the U.S. bishtrumpeted by one of their ops and others, worked spokesmen, Washington the Council process so Post columnist E.J. Di- that it became clear to onne Jr. Therein, I sug- a critical mass of the gest, lies a great rever- world's bishops that resal and an even greater ligious freedom was indeed congruent with what Cardinal George The most significant called "the Catholic and contribution to the uniapostolic faith." That liberal Catholics of the 2012 diaspora refuse to concede the grave threat to religious freedom posed by the administration's mandate. epic Declaration on Re- and that they have given political cover to a gross infringement on religious history-changing defense freedom by a federal government that looks ever more like Hobbes' Leviathan, is a grave breach of ecclesial communion in itself. It also represents a tragic betraval of the best freedom at Vatican II in the liberal Catholic were pivotal, unfolded in heritage in the U.S., even as it illustrates the utter incoherence into which post-conciliar liberal Catholicism in America has tragically fallen.

George Weigel is Distinguished Senior Fellow of the Ethics and Public Policy Center in Washington, D.C.

Weigel's column is distributed by the Denver Catholic Register, the official newspaper of the

as "liberal Catholics." a the Catholic diaspora) Phone: 303-715-3215. PROTECT, continued from Page 2 -

ing they still consider it organizations, including

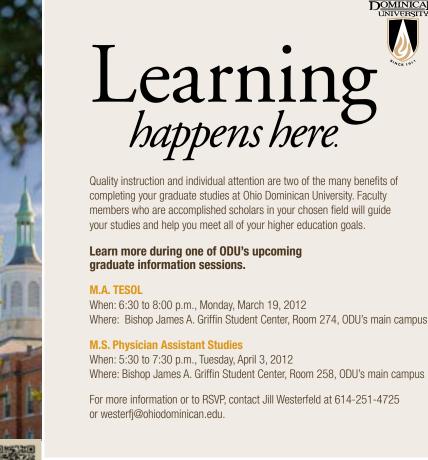

The bishops subsequently called for con- coverage and would have preventive health care science protections to be enacted into law.

The Blunt amendment allowed church-affiliated an intrusion on religious Catholic charities, hospitals, schools, and universities, to opt out of such extended exemptions to any nonreligious emiection to such coverage. objection.

Under the amendment, employers also would have been allowed to refuse to cover any other procedures required under the rule if they ployer with a moral ob- held a moral or religious

www.ctonline.org

1216 Sunbury Road | Columbus, Ohio 43219 | 614.251.4615 | ohiodominican.edu

Pray for our dead

ALLEN, Daniel W., 83, Feb. 29 St. Nicholas Church, Zanesville

DECKER, Bernard J., 90, March 3 St. Mary Church, Groveport

DUFFY, Patricia A., 72, March 2 St. Patrick Church, London

DWYER, Margaret J. "Peg," 89, March 2 St. Patrick Church, London

EBBRECHT, Joseph, 75, Feb. 29 Pope John XXIII Church, Canal Winchester

FICHTELMAN, Warren L., 88, March 2 St. Catharine Church, Columbus

FOSTER, Betty B., Feb. 24

St. Rose Church, New Lexington

FRYE. Martha A., 90, Feb. 26 St. John Chrysostom Byzantine Catholic Church, Columbus

GOPALAKRISHNA, Rajesh E., 32, March 1 Church of the Resurrection, New Albany

HADDOX, Jeffrey J., 52, Feb. 25 St. Andrew Church, Columbus

HARRIS, Amy, of Dublin, 47, March 1 St. Mary Church, St. Clairsville

JONES, Elton A. Jr., 62, Feb. 25 Holy Rosary-St. John Church, Columbus KAVANAUGH, Frank E., 73, Feb. 28 St. Elizabeth Seton Church. Pickerington

LEBOLD, Alvin D., 84, March 4 St. Francis de Sales Church, Newark

LAWRENCE, Richard L., 83, Feb. 28 St. Philip Church, Columbus

NELSON, Genevieve, 87, Feb. 28 St. Cecilia Church, Columbus

OZIMOK, Mike, 87, March 1

St. John Chrysostom Byzantine Catholic Church, Columbus

SALIVA. Esther F., 95, March 1 Church of the Resurrection, New Albany

TRAINER, Joan M., 63, Feb. 27 St. Elizabeth Seton Parish, Pickerington

WALLACE, Raymond J., 78, Feb. 27 St. Elizabeth Church, Columbus

WATTS, Marian P., 92, March 1 Holy Spirit Church, Columbus

WOERNER, Michael J., 49, Feb. 24 St. Timothy Church, Columbus

ZASTROW, Gloria S., 87, March 2 St. Andrew Church, Columbus

Catholic Foundation Hosts Program to Address Utica Shale Boom

A seminar sponsored by The Catho- practiced oil and gas law at Vorys for carawas Ave..

The program will be presented by attorneys from the Columbus law firm of Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease, LLP. Topics include the leasing of mineral rights, environmental issues, charitable gifts, and general estate planning. Jon Airey, who has at (330) 364-6661 for reservations.

lic Foundation to address the oil boom more than 35 years, will focus on the in northeast Ohio will take place from background of Utica shale develop-10 a.m. to noon Saturday, March 17, at ment in Ohio, leasing issues, and en-Dover St. Joseph Church, 613 N. Tus-vironmental matters. Ron Rowland. who has spent more than 35 years practicing tax law at the firm, will address the personal planning options available to the holder of oil and gas interests, including charitable and personal gifts and estate planning.

The program is free. Contact Brenda

CHARISMATIC RETREAT

treat sponsored by the diocesan Cath- Revelation 22:7, "For behold, I am olic Charismatic Renewal will take coming soon! Blessed is he who keeps place Friday to Sunday, March 16 to the words of the prophecy of this 18. at St. Therese's Retreat Center, book." 5277 E. Broad St., Columbus

Clifton Bishop Jr. of Bethlehem, Pa.

The theme for the weekend will be

TUNE IN ONLINE AT STGABRIELRADIO.COM

The annual men's and women's re- "Heavenly Movie Trailer," based on

For further information and regis-The retreat director will be Father tration contact the Catholic Charismatic Renewal office at (614) 237-

LIKE US ON f

WELCOME TO THE NEW HOME FOR ST. GABRIEL CATHOLIC RADIO AM 820 SAME GREAT CATHOLIC LOCAL AND NATIONAL PROGRAMMING REACHING ALL OF CENTRAL OHIO AND BEYOND YOUR FAITH! St. Gabriel CATHOLIC RADIO AM 820

Resurrection Cemetery, Lewis Center. He was born March 10, 1930, in Toledo to Christopher and Johanna (Fry) Adamshick.

Donald R. Adamshick

Funeral Mass for Donald R. Adamshick, 81, who died Thursday, March 1, was held Monday, March 5, at Columbus St. Anthony Church. Burial was at

He was a graduate of Toledo Central Catholic High School, received a master's degree in education at the Univerduring the Korean War.

He was the first lay dean of personal formation at the Pontifical College Josephinum, receiving its Msgr. Jessing Award. He also conducted psychological screening for the permanent diaconate program of the Diocese of Columbus, and served the Salesians of Don Bosco in various ways.

He was staff psychologist at the Ohio State School for the Blind, provided services for the deaf-blind clinic at the Ohio School for the Deaf, and had a private counseling practice.

He was preceded in death by his parents; son, Anthony; and brother, Robert. Survivors include sity of Toledo, and served in the Army his wife, Carolyn; son, Michael (Laurie); daughters, Mary (Mark) Colelli, Margaret (Robert) Shield Elizabeth (Patrick) Adamshick and Jane (John) Kidder; sisters, Emma Darmofal and Joan (Joe) Pufka; and 10 grandchildren.

> Send obituaries to tpuet@colsdioc.org

Catholic Times 17 March 11, 2012

HAPPENINGS

CLASSIFIED

ST. MARGARET OF CORTONA CHURCH 1600 N. Hague Ave, Columbus

14TH ANNUAL

"BEST FISH FRY DINNER IN TOWN!" Fridays, Feb 24 - March 30, 4:30 - 7:30 PM Fried Perch or Baked Cod, French Fries, Baked Potato, Baked Steak Fries, Cole Slaw, Applesauce,

Roll & Butter, Desserts. Free seconds & coffee! Adults - $9.00; Seniors - $8.50; Children (10 & under) - $4.00 POP, BEER, & CARROUTS AVAILABLE • Info: 279-1690

ST. STEPHEN THE MARTYR CHURCH 4131 Clime Road, Columbu WEEKLY LENTEN FISH FRY

Fridays, Feb 24 - Mar 30 - 5:30-7:00 pm ALL YOU CAN EAT FISH (fried or baked), CHOICE OF TWO SIDE DISHES, BEVERAGE

AND DESSERT INCLUDED $9/adults, $8/seniors, $4.50/ages 4-12 (family discounts available) For further information call 614-272-5206

ST. JOAN OF ARC PARISH 10700 Liberty Rd, Powell WEEKLY FISH FRY

FRIDAYS FEB. 24 — MARCH 30, 5:30 — 7:30 PM (SPONSORED BY KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS)

ALL YOU CAN EAT MEAL INCLUDES BAKED & FRIED FISH, FRENCH FRIES, MAC & CHEESE, GREEN BEANS, COLE SLAW, ROLLS, SOFT DRINKS

Adults: $8.50, Seniors: $7:50, Children: $4, Carry-out: $8:50

All fund-raising events (festivals, bazaars, spaghetti dinners, fish fries, bake sales, pizza/sub sales, candy sales, etc.) will be placed in the "Fund-Raising Guide." An entry into the Guide will be $18.50 for the first six lines, and $2.65 for each additional line. For more information, call Deacon Steve DeMers at 614-224-6530 or 800-511-0584.

'Happenings' submissions

Notices for items of Catholic interest must be received at least 12 days before expected publication date. We will print them as space permits. Items not received before this deadline may not be published. Listings cannot be taken by phone. Mail to: The Catholic Times Happenings, 197 East Gay St., Columbus, OH 43215

Fax to: 614-241-2518 E-mail as text to tpuet@colsdioc.org

ST. CHRISTOPHER CHURCH LENTEN PASTA DINNER

1420 Grandview Ave / Trinity School Cafeteria Fridays, Feb 24 - Mar 30 / 5PM - 8PM $ 7 ADULTS / $ 4 KIDS / $ 25 PER FAMILY SAUCES PROVIDED BY LOCAL RESTAURANTS MARCH 9 - Bravo Cucina Italiana MARCH 16 — LaScala Restaurant

LENTEN FISH FRY

FRIDAYS 5-8 pm, Feb 24 - Mar 30 ST. MICHAEL CHURCH 5750 N. High St., Worthington FISH DINNER: REG/$8: SMALL/$6 MACARONI-CHEESE DINNER/$6 Dine In, Drive Thru & Carryout

LENTEN FISH FRY'S - COME JOIN US ST. ANDREW CHURCH

1899 McCoy Rd. Upper Arlington FEBRUARY 24, MARCH 2, 9, 16, 23, 30 4:30 - 7:00 P.M. BAKED COD OR DEEP FRIED PERCH SIDES, DESSERT & BEVERAGE INCLUDED

ALSO CHEESE PIZZA & MAC 'N CHEESE ADULT $8, CHILD (UNDER 12) $4 CARRY OUT $7 (NO DESSERT OR BEVERAGE)

OUR LADY OF LOURDES CHURCH 1033 W 5th Street, Marysville

ANNUAL LENTEN FISH FRY DINNERS Fridays, Feb 24 - Mar 30 - 5 to 8 p.m. Both fried and baked fish, with fries or baked potato, coleslaw or applesauce; pizza and mac-n-cheese available

$10 all-v-can-eat, $8 regular, $6 seniors, $5 kid's

ST. PETER K OF C • 6899 Smoky Row Rd. Columbus FR. STEPHEN VIRGINIA'S 1ST ANNUAL PASTA DINNER

MARCH 18, 12:30-7 PM (in the McEwen Center Gvm) INCLUDES SALAD, PASTA W/ 2 MEATBALLS, BREAD. DESSERT & DRINK Adults $8. children 10 & under $4

(benefits St. John's Hermitage - www.stiohnshermitage.org)

ST. ELIZABETH CHURCH 6077 Sharon Woods Blvd, Columbus LENTEN FISH FRY EVERY FRIDAY

Feb 24 - March 30, 5-7PM BAKED & FRIED FISH, AND FISH SANDWICHES,

SHRIMP, GRILLED CHEESE, PLUS PIEROGIES

Cost is: $8 adult, $6 Fish Sandwich & Pierogies, $5 child Carryout is available • Come enjoy and have fun

ST. MATTHEW CHURCH

807 Havens Corners Rd - Gahanna Mar 9th, 5:15-7:30 PM CHEESE LASAGNA DINNER & SALAD

Vegetables, Bread Sticks, Beverage & Dessert Dine in -or- Carry Out - Discounts for Families & Seniors. Sponsored by K of C • www.GahannaKnights.org

MARCH

DAILY THROUGH APRIL 1 40 Days for Life

Continuous, sidewalk in front of Complete Healthcare for Women, 5888 Cleveland Ave., Columbus, 40 Days for Life Lenten vigil at abortion clinic.

20s Group Meeting at Columbus St. Patrick

8 THURSDAY

7 p.m., St. Patrick Church, 280 N. Grant Ave., Columbus. Weekly meeting of parish's new 20s Group. All young adults invited. Begins with Holy Hour, followed at 8 by 614-406-9516

10. SATURDAY

Bishop Ready Scholarship Exam

9 to 11 a.m., Bishop Ready High School, 707 Salisbury Road, Columbus. Scholarship exam for incoming fresh-614-276-5263

Life and Mercy Mass in Plain City

9 a.m. Mass. St. Joseph Church. 140 West Ave., Plain City. Saturday Life and Mercy Mass, followed by rosary and confession. 614-565-8654

NFP Information Session at St. John Neumann

9 a.m., St. John Neumann Church, 9633 East State Route 37, Sunbury. Information session for Natural Family Planning. Pre-registration required. $10 for non-parishioners.

Prayer and Dance Workshop at de Porres Center

9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Martin de Porres Center, 2330 Airport Drive, Columbus. Workshop on prayer in movement and dance, presented by the Bakhita Dance Ministry of Columbus St. Dominic Church.

Tajci Concert at Christ the King

7 p.m., Christ the King Church, 2777 E. Livingston Ave., Columbus. "I Thirst: The Crucifixion Story" with Christian 614-237-0401 singer and songwriter Tajci.

10-11. SATURDAY-SUNDAY

Diocesan Youth Rally at St. Paul

St. Paul Church, 313 N. State St., Westerville. Diocesan youth rally, featuring keynote speaker Father Steve Ryan, SDB, talk by Bishop Frederick Campbell on Saturday evening, music, entertainment, recreation activities, breakout sessions, teen expo, and Adoration. 614-241-2565

11, SUNDAY

St. Christopher Adult Religious Education

10 to 11:15 a.m., St. Christopher Parish Center, 1420 Grandview Ave., Columbus. "Divine Mercy Sunday in the Life of the Church" with Brother Matthew Holladay of Franciscan University of Steubenville.

Cancer Support Group Meeting at St. Peter

12:30 p.m., Red Room, St. Peter Church, 6899 Smoky Row Road, Columbus. Cancer support group meeting with Gina Crooks, executive director, Haven of Hope Cancer Foundation. 614-457-3964

Bishop Watterson Youth Baseball Hitting Clinic

Bishop Watterson High School, 99 E. Cooke Road, Colimbus. Baseball hitting clinic for youth, with school's coaches and players. Fourth to sixth grades, 1 to 2:30 p.m.; seventh and eighth grades, 3 to 4:30 p.m. 614-268-8671 Cathedral Organ Recital

3 p.m., St. Joseph Cathedral, 212 E. Broad St., Columbus. Craig Cramer, University of Notre Dame organ professor, presents the fifth of six recitals featuring the complete organ works of Dieterich Buxtehude. 614-241-2526

Spanish Mass at Columbus St. Peter

7 p.m., St. Peter Church, 6899 Smoky Row Road, Columbus. Mass in Spanish. 706-761-4054 Hamilton College Choir at St. Joan of Arc

7:30 p.m., St. Joan of Arc Church, 10700 Liberty Road, Powell. Performance by the Hamilton College choir of Clinton, N.Y. 614-761-0905

12, MONDAY

Calix Society Meeting at Columbus St. Patrick

6:30 p.m., St. Patrick Church, 280 N. Grant Ave., Columbus. Monthly meeting of the Calix Society, an association of Catholic alcoholics affiliated with Alcoholics Anonymous. Business meeting followed by 7 p.m. Mass and full meeting after Mass.

Bethesda Post-Abortion Healing Ministry

6:30 p.m., support group meeting, 2744 Dover Road, (Christ the King Church campus), Columbus.

614-718-0277, 614-309-2651, 614-309-0157

Our Lady of Peace Men's Bible Study 7 p.m., Our Lady of Peace Church, 20 E. Dominion Blvd.,

Columbus. Bible study of Sunday Scripture readings.

'EnCourage' Support Group Meeting

7 p.m. Meeting of a new Columbus-area Catholic organization providing solace, support, and counsel for parents and relatives of those with a same-sex attraction.

'Catholicism' Series at St. Pius X

7 to 8:30 p.m., St. Pius X Church, 1051 Waggoner Road, Reynoldsburg. Video of "The Fire of His Love: Prayer and the Life of the Spirit," Part 7 of Father Robert Barron's "Catholicism" series, followed by discussion.

Prayer Group Meeting at St. Mark

7 p.m., St. Raymond Room, St. Mark Center, 324 Gay St., Lancaster. Light of Life Prayer Group meeting.

740-653-4919

14. WEDNESDAY

Turning Leaves and Tea Leaves

2 to 3:30 p.m., Martin de Porres Center, 2330 Airport Drive, Columbus. Turning Leaves and Tea Leaves book club with Dominican Sisters Marialein Anzenberger and Colleen Gallagher. 614-416-1910

20s Group Meeting at Columbus St. Patrick

7 p.m., St. Patrick Church, 280 N. Grant Ave., Columbus. Weekly meeting of parish's new 20s Group. All young adults invited. Begins with Holy Hour, followed at 8 by 614-406-9516 program.

18 Catholic Times Catholic Times 19 March 11, 2012 March 11, 2012

CONCERT

Sunday, March 25 • 7 p.m. St. Joan of Arc Church, 10700 Liberty Road, Powell

An organ concert by Natthew Neloche the themes, and interludes with organ improvisations will give the listener time to reflect upon the Word of God. This is not a traditional organ concert. There will be taken to support the artists and the parish music program.

Organist Matthew J. Meloche presents this unique concert, which will include the reading of the Book of Organ music played during the reading will enhance be no repertoire or large-scale organ pieces. Instead this is a night to hear the Word of God and music combined together for our inspiration during this Lenten

BOOK REVIEW

Teddy bears and tabernacles: the pope's childhood, told by his brother

By Catholic News Service

Recounting their rural Bavarian childhood and subsequent lifelong friendship, the elder brother of Pope Benedict XVI offers a privileged look at the personal side of the spiritual leader of 1.3 billion Catholics.

"My Brother the Pope," published on March 1 by Ignatius Press, is based on interviews with Msgr. Georg Ratzinger by German writer Michael Hesemann and ing tabernacle," Msgr. Ratzinger recalls. was originally published in German last "Naturally, we used water instead of wine

Joseph, the future Pope Benedict, was "very slight and delicate" at birth, Msgr. Ratzinger says, and was "often sick" as an infant, with diphtheria among other ailments. Later on, Joseph's favorite toys went on to become the choirmaster of were stuffed animals. He was particularly attached to a pair of teddy bears.

Msgr. Ratzinger describes family life with their parents and older sister, Maria, as free of any overt conflict, "since each one settled that himself and with God in personal prayer. We did not talk about such things. ... Such problems became a "Antichrist" and refused to join the Nazi part of our prayer."

Glimpses of the boys' destinies came early on.

When a cardinal visited their small town in 1931, arriving in a black limousine, a cardinal someday!" Nevertheless, Msgr. Ratzinger says, his brother was never ambitious, and external honors have been "always unwelcome" to him.

"My brother was somewhat better behaved than I," Msgr. Ratzinger says, yet he recounts a boyhood prank in which the says. The pope's brother was present at the two tricked a local farmer into losing track Allied bombardment of the monastery at of his oxcart.

Recreation of a more edifying sort came when the boys played at being priests, using a toy altar made for them by an uncle.

"It was a really beautiful high altar, which he even equipped with a rotat- dividing tasks in the kitchen -- the monsi-for the make-believe consecration."

The future Pope Benedict, now a proficient amateur pianist and lover of Mozart, "did not take to music quite as spontaneously as I did," says Msgr. Ratzinger, who the Regensburg, Germany, cathedral. His brother "was a little more restrained, although he is a very musical person," Msgr. Ratzinger says.

Recounting Hitler's rise to power in 1930s Germany, Msgr. Ratzinger says that their father regarded the dictator as the

"But so as not to put our family completely at risk, he advised Mother to join the women's organization," Msgr. Ratzinger says, noting that the women "did not talk four-year-old Joseph exclaimed, "I'll be about Hitler but instead exchanged recipes, chatted about their gardens, and sometimes even prayed the rosary together."

> It was only reluctantly that the two boys obeyed requirements to join the Hitler Youth and later served in the German military during World War II, Msgr. Ratzinger Monte Cassino, Italy, in 1944.

Msgr. Ratzinger recounts anecdotes about their time together as adults: watching a German television series about a police dog named "Inspector Rex" and gnor washing dishes while his brother, by then a cardinal, drying.

In 2005, after the death of Blessed John Paul II, Msgr. Ratzinger was sure that his brother was too old to be elected pope. When he heard the new pontiff's name pronounced on live television, he admits that he was "disheartened."

"It was a great challenge, an enormous task for him. I thought, and I was seriously worried," Msgr. Ratzinger says.

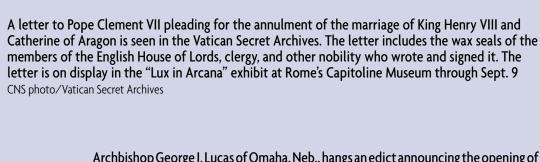

The pope later confided that his election had "struck him like a bolt of lightning," Msgr. Ratzinger says.

Readers get a glimpse inside the papal household as Msgr. Ratzinger describes his brother's daily routine. On Tuesdays, for example, Pope Benedict listens to tape recordings and practices his pronunciation of the remarks in foreign languages that he will make at the next day's general audi-

Msgr. Ratzinger says that his brother has not been indifferent to the many criticisms that he has received during his career as prefect of the Vatican's Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith and then as pope.

Pope Benedict is "personally very sensitive, but he also knows from which corner these attacks come and the reason for them, what is usually behind them," Msgr. Ratzinger says. "That way he overcomes it more easily, he rises above it more simply." Contributing to this report were Carol Glatz, Francis X. Rocca, and Cindy

NEWS IN PHOTOS FROM AROUND THE WORLD

Archbishop George J. Lucas of Omaha, Neb., hangs an edict announcing the opening of the cause for sainthood for Father Edward Flanagan on Feb. 27 on the doors of St. Cecilia Cathedral in Omaha. Father Flanagan, founder of Boys Town, spent his life devoted to the care of troubled and abandoned boys. The proclamation invited people to share their thoughts on the priest's life and ministry CNS photo/Mike Buckley, courtesy of Boys Town

SANCTISSIMO.IN.CHRIS

People gather outside St. Mary's Church for a candlelight vigil on Feb. 28 in remembrance of the victims of a school shooting that morning in Chardon, Ohio. Three students were killed and two others wounded by suspect T.J. Lane in the shooting rampage at Chardon High School. Daniel Parmertor, who attended St. Mary's Church, died instantly CNS photo/Aaron Josefczyk, Reuters

Part of the front of St. Joseph's Catholic Church remains standing on Feb. 29 after a tornado ripped through Ridgway, Ill. Homes, churches, and businesses were destroyed by multiple tornadoes in six states. At least 12 people were killed in the violent storms CNS photo/Paul Newton, courtesy of The Southern Illinoisan

20 Catholic Times March 11, 2012

CONFERENCE, continued from Page 3

Bishop Frederick Campbell arrives at the Lausche Building altar for Mass

A choir of Pontifical College Josephinum seminarians provided music

Part of the crowd of 2,000 men at the diocesan Catholic Men's Conference

He said the work he did in preparation for degrees in divinity and theology showed him the parallels between the Eucharist and the Jewish Passover and how Jesus' Last Supper was the model for the new Passover, which is the Mass.

"The New Testament (in the Eucharist) was a sacrament long before it ever became a document, according to the document itself," Hahn said, referring to descriptions of the Last Supper found in the Gospel of Luke and St. Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians.

"Jesus said, 'Do this in remembrance of me,' not 'write this' or 'read this' or 'preach this,'" Hahn said. "This makes Christ's death on Calvary an execution that becomes a sacrifice. If the Eucharist is just a meal, than Calvary is just an execution. Only if the Eucharist is the Passover of the New Testament does the sacrifice at Calvary become the fulfillment of the words which Jesus spoke when he began the sacrifice by saying 'this bread is my body' and 'this is the cup of my blood' at the Last Supper."

Hahn said that six weeks ago, he had a bowel perforation that caused him to be hospitalized for the first time and to receive the Anointing of the Sick. "It reminded me that this life which seems so long is going to look so short one day, and that the mortality rate and the immortality rate are both 100 percent," he said. "Remember, what you do for all eternity is based on what you choose to do in this life."

"The world has become a colder place for Catholics these days," he said. "We seem to be in an era of global cooling when it comes to religion." Referring to this year's elections, he urged his listeners to vote as their consciences told them, as informed by God's word. "There is an axiom which says 'Politicians are like diapers. They need to be changed frequently, and for the same reason.' That may be true, but we need to be changed, too," he said. "We have to look at things from an eternal perspective."

Msgr. Morris' talk frequently referred to the phrase "Rise, let us be on our way," which Jesus said to the apostles in the Garden of Gethsemane as he prepared to face his crucifixion and which Pope John Paul II used as the title of a book about his 20 years as a bishop before becoming pope.

"The Holy Father alludes to a spirit of resoluteness, and this same resoluteness must be our own," Msgr. Morris said. "It's going to require that we die in spirit, and it's going to be ongoing. The cross is the starting point for discipleship. It's not easy to follow the Lord, but we know we must. As John Paul said, 'No one can truly understand or know himself apart from Christ."

Msgr. Morris was one of several speakers who criticized the recent U.S. Health and Human Services Department mandate requiring all employers to provide coverage for contraception and sterilization services in any health insurance plan. The nation's Catholic bishops and many other religious leaders have expressed strong opposition to the mandate and to a recent modification of it, describing both as intrusions on religious liberty.

"Fifteen years ago, I said there was going to come a time when we are not going to be able to freely practice our faith as it ought to be practiced. It has come to pass," he said.

Msgr. Morris urged those in attendance to consecrate themselves and their families to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, using the prayer of consecration written by St. Margaret Mary Alacoque.

"This is our plan of action as we go forth today," he said. "Jesus has promised that through this act, he will give us the graces we need in our state of life, and from those will come peace in our families and consolation in our troubles. He will be your refuge in death and will bless you abundantly."

Father Schalk prepared the men at the conference to go to confession, saying the Sacrament of Reconciliation is "more than asking for God's mercy. It's how we pour out our faith, love, and devotion to him, like the woman who anointed him by pouring out expensive oil. She was pouring herself out to him, and that's what we're called to do."

"It takes courage for a man to remove the masks from his life and show Christ his whole self" by confessing his sins, Father Schalk said. "Be courageous, be bold in declaring your faith and receiving the gift of new life."

Bishop Campbell also spoke of courage in his homily, which he began by talking of how influential the novel "Men of Iron" by Howard Pyle, a tale of medieval knights and their courage, was to him when he was 12 years old.

He described courage as "a virtue we must carefully understand. It is not bragging, or foolhardiness, or brashness, accepting silly and dangerous challenges. ... Courage takes account of our natural fears and hesitations. It is a fear that overcomes all other fears. It is the fear that truth be denied, that good not be done, and that evil triumph – a fear that moves us into action."

Referring to the HHS mandate, Bishop Campbell said, "We are in a situation not of our own making, but one in which we must participate. Our religious liberty to proclaim the Gospel is being threatened, and this threat must be opposed. This will require the strength of Christian gentlemen. We want not to score points, but to convert others to what is true and good."

"We, like young knights, must root our prayer in the Eucharist, which forms us into human persons touched by charity and called to proclaim the Good News," the bishop said.